

MS. USSIN TEACHES

“I can count, on one hand, the number of discipline referrals I’ve written in my 15-year tenure as a classroom teacher. There were some incidents that were mandated by administration to be “automatic write ups” — fights, possession of weapons, etc. — but beyond those, I can count my referrals on one hand.”

I simply want to share what worked in my classrooms for 15 years.

No fluff.

No gimmicks.

New teachers need to be encouraged.

New teachers need to be empowered.

New teachers need to be equipped.

And new teachers need veteran teachers for that. Period.

I’m tired of seeing new teachers walk away from the profession because they can’t manage their classrooms or because they don’t have the skills to create engaging, impactful lessons for students.

This is why I want to partner with you—school leaders, professors of education, deans of education, directors of curriculum and instruction—to encourage, empower and equip new teachers who will effectively engage, equip and educate our students.

P.O.W.E.R. Teaching Tools is my signature instructional framework. After years of seeing what worked and what didn't work in my classrooms, I packaged specific techniques that can be used in any classroom with any curriculum to foster student achievement. The P.O.W.E.R. Teaching Tools work in tandem with specific classroom management techniques that I've found to work EVERY TIME for creating an engaging environment that is conducive for learning.

Topics Covered Within the P.O.W.E.R. Teaching Tools

- Rituals, Routines and All the Foundational Things
- Build Relationships
- Are You Being You?
- Save Your Yelling for the Game
